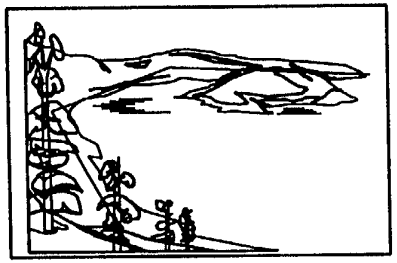
HILL TALKS PEACE TO JEWS

By GREGG BIRNBAUM



DAY AT THE BEACH: Senate candidate Hillary Clinton shakes hands after attending services at the Hampton Synagogue in Westhampton.-AP

Hillary Rodham Clinton jumped into the sensitive Camp David peace talks yesterday, saying the Americans and Israelis want a deal–and strongly suggesting Palestinian leaders are the stumbling block.

"So much of the challenge that the president and the [Israeli] prime minister are facing is rooted in whether or not others will give up ther hatred, will give up their sense of violence and their commitment to destruction in return for peace," Clinton said at an Orthodox synagoge on Long Island.

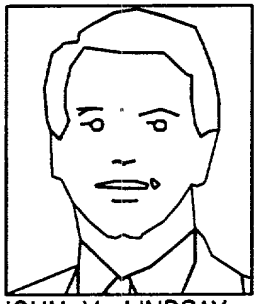
FORMER NYC MAYOR JOHN VLIET LINDSAY DEAD AT 79

Wednesday, December 20, 2000

By ROBERT HARDT Jr.



JOHN V. LINDSAY (1921-2000) – NYP: M. Norcia

John V. Lindsay, the charismatic "Silk Stocking" Republican turned Democrat who led New York City through eight tumultuous years as mayor, died yesterday in a South Carolina retirement community.

Lindsay, 79, had been in poor health over the last several years, battling Parkinson's Disease and suffering two heart attacks and two strokes.

Lindsay -- mayor from 1966 to 1974 --. was widely credited for maintaining racial unity in New York during a time in which other cities across the country were torn apart by upheaval and riots.

"His contribution was infusing a spirit into young people to go into government," said ex-mayor Edward I. Koch, who crossed party lines to endorse a then-Republican Lindsay in 1965. "He brought a sense that the government belonged to the people."

City Council member Ronnie Eldridge, who served as Lindsay's special assistant at City Hall from 1969 to 1973, called the late mayor "a graceful, thoughtful, caring person who worked very hard."

Lindsay was mayor "during exciting times, and really started the national effort to form an urban agenda that would help cities grow in a very healthful way," she recalled.
